

SmartCPAs

SmartCEO READERS PICK THE REGION'S TOP ACCOUNTANTS

When a CEO refers to his or her most trusted advisers, the CPA often ranks high on the list. Without a CPA, a myriad of things could go awry for the well-intentioned business owner. The CPA is the objective voice in the ear of any CEO, advising on all or most financial decisions, especially pertaining to the growth and forecasting of a business.

Each year SmartCEO recognizes SmartCPAs who exemplify their roles as leaders, innovators and trusted advisers for the businesses they serve. For 2010, SmartCEO decided to ask our readers to share with us their exemplary CPAs.

In the pages that follow, SmartCPAs from the Greater Washington region are listed alphabetically by last name; listings include firm names and areas of expertise. In addition, our nominators weighed in on why they feel their CPAs rise to the top.

*Note: This list is based on readers' responses and does not reflect the opinions of SmartCEO magazine.

ANDY SMITH
The McLean Group
Business valuation

Congratulations to the 2010 SmartCPAs

